Women in Energy x AABE Breakfast

Victoria Teufel

On September 18, 2025, Third Way's Women in Energy partnered with the American Association of Blacks in Energy (AABE) for a breakfast gathering at Doyle in Washington, DC. The event brought together women from across the energy sector for an off-the-record morning of conversation, networking, and community building. Victoria Teufel of Third Way and Camille Moore of AABE welcomed the group and shared remarks, helping kick off a morning focused on strengthening connections among women working across energy policy, industry, and advocacy. The breakfast marked the second gathering of Third Way's Women in Energy series and an important step toward expanding the community through partnerships with organizations that support women across the sector.
